Striving for Excellence, Caring for All

Why we believe Art and Design is important

Art and Design can provide excellent opportunities to foster a deep sense of engagement among learners by providing a great chance to work creatively, where children can be inspired by a range of experiences and broaden their horizons. Art links to every curriculum area as it facilitates - problem solving, imagination, deep critical thinking, risk taking and reflection essential skills for each generation. We provide a high quality art education aiming to give a foundation for understanding the world and the skills to enable personal progression.

Remote Learning

During the enforced closure of schools as a result of the Covid-19 pandemic, Abbey Academies Trust remained committed to ensuring that the remote education offered followed our normal school curriculum as far as possible via recorded online learning, enabling pupils to obtain the building blocks they needed to move onto the next step in their learning. After our return to school in March 2021, the Maths curriculum was refined to best support the development of our children's skills and knowledge, providing them with solid foundations and enabling them to 'fly high' as they continue their journey through school. A full maths curriculum has now resumed but staff remain mindful of gaps in knowledge that may exist because of school closures.

Intent – each child can:

- access the teaching and learning of progressive art skills
- reach their full creative potential by exploring and recording their experiences
- strive for excellence and innovation
- explore real-world challenges through a variety of art forms
- access additional stimulus opportunities both inside and outside the classroom
- be inspired and engaged through inclusive learning experiences
- be creative in an enabling and safe environment which celebrates individuality and diversity

Implementation – how do we do this?

The current National Curriculum says:

'Art, craft and design embody some of the highest forms of human creativity. A high-quality art and design education should engage, inspire and challenge pupils, equipping them with the knowledge and skills to experiment invent and create their own works of art, craft and design. As pupils progress, they should be able to think critically and develop a more rigorous understanding of art and design. They should also know how art and design both reflect and shape our history, and contribute to the culture, creativity and wealth of our nation.' (National Curriculum in England: art and design programmes of study, 2013)

- All children are taught in mixed attainment groups, as it is important to have high expectations for all pupils to become proficient in drawing, sculpture, painting and other art, craft and design techniques
- Inclusive and exciting learning experiences, which includes opportunities to gain greater understanding and proficiency.

- Art skills progression in place from Foundation 1 to Year 6 giving rise to art skills books, which records their learning journeys.
- Staff supported by Arts team, Mighty Creatives and Bourne Schools Collaboration.
- Art team are undertaking their own professional development through the Artsmark to ensure deep subject knowledge, which can be used to support staff throughout the trust.
- Planning is supported through given sequences of activities provided by the Art team.
- Sufficient time is spent teaching and learning age related art skills, preventing gaps in knowledge.
