Dear Parents/Carers,

Relationship, Health and Sex Education Policy Consultation Process

We would like to extend our heartfelt gratitude to all parents and carers who took the time to consider the proposed Relationship, Health, and Sex Education (RSHE) policy as part of our consultation process. Your valuable feedback has been highly valued and reflected upon. By actively participating, you have played a crucial role in ensuring that our RSHE curriculum reflects the values and expectations of our school community. A summary of the findings can be found attached to this letter.

We truly appreciate the effort and consideration that went into completing the online feedback form. Your insights, questions, and suggestions have been carefully reviewed by the PSHE Team as well as Governors and Trustees. After thorough deliberation, we are pleased to inform you that the policy has been ratified and will now be adopted as the Abbey Academies Trust Relationship, Health, and Sex Education Policy.

Details of each term's PSHE unit will be communicated to you in due course. We are dedicated to providing comprehensive and age-appropriate education that equips our pupils with the knowledge, skills, and understanding necessary to navigate various aspects of relationships, health, and well-being.

Once again, we extend our sincerest gratitude for your involvement and contribution to this important process. Together, we are creating a safe and supportive learning environment where everyone can thrive.

Thank you for your continued support.

PSHE Team
